

GeneConsult looks for a Sales Consultant in the Nordics to better serve our customers' needs in medical genetic diagnosis.

As Sales Consultant Nordics you will be tasked with customer visits, to present our partner analytical platform for clinical genomics and to be accountable for sales reports & forecasts. You will be also responsible to serve customer requests, developing sales opportunities and providing ongoing consulting to existing accounts. You will be supported by a well-resourced team of technical specialists.

Traveling and staying away is required from time to time.

About GeneConsult

GeneConsult is a specialist sales company in medical genetic diagnostics. We partner with high quality companies to promote their products & services through our network of medical professionals across Northern Europe.

Our team consists of highly educated professionals with over 20 years' experience in genetic diagnostics, business development and sales, with an in-depth knowledge of scientific and diagnostic developments.

Experience and Qualifications

- A university degree in sciences
- Experience in the field of biotechnology, genetic or laboratory diagnostics
- First experience in sales
- People oriented with excellent communication skills
- Experience in communicating complex scientific principles in simple terms
- Good English

Personal Attributes

- Attention to detail
- Commercially aware
- Able to commit to and meet deadlines
- A good team player

To apply

Please email cc@geneconsult.info your CV and cover letter in German or English addressed to:

Christian Cammin
GeneConsult GmbH
Industriestr. 15
18209 Rostock
Germany